RE: Chief Inspector General Correspondence #2025-08-27-0012

Dear Mr. Martin:

The Office of the Chief Inspector General received your complaint on August 27, 2025, in which you expressed concerns about Omega Villas Condominium Association.

Please be advised that this office does not have jurisdiction over homeowner's associations, court or legal matters. You may wish to speak to an attorney who can advise you of any remedies that may be available to you. The Florida Bar offers a Lawyer Referral Service. You may find their contact information online at <https://www.floridabar.org/public/lrs/>.

Additionally, please be advised that this office does not have jurisdiction over attorneys. You may wish to report your concerns about attorney misconduct to The Florida Bar. You may locate their information online at <https://www.floridabar.org/public/acap/>.

However, after having had the opportunity to review your concerns, by copy of this letter, we are referring your complaint to the Inspector General for the Department of Business and Professional Regulation for review and action deemed appropriate.

Thank you for bringing this matter to our attention. In the event you have any further questions, please contact the Inspector General's office for the Department of Business and Professional Regulation by calling (850) 414-6700 or emailing oig@myfloridalicense.com.

Sincerely,

Office of the Chief Inspector General

cc: Rodney MacKinnon, Inspector General
